Re: AB 626 (E. Garcia): California Retail Food Code:
microenterprise home kitchen operations
As Amended May 2, 2017 – OPPOSE
Set for Hearing on May 24, 2017 – Assembly Appropriations Committee

Dear Assembly Member Gonzalez Fletcher:

The California State Association of Counties (CSAC), Urban Counties of California (UCC), Rural County Representatives of California (RCRC), County Health Executives Association of California (CHEAC), and Health Officers Association of California (HOAC) regretfully must OPPOSE AB 626 by Assembly Member Eduardo Garcia, which would allow for the sale of food directly to consumers from private homes.

Local public health and environmental health departments work diligently to prevent and reduce community exposure to costly foodborne illnesses. We have tremendous concerns about the preparation of potentially hazardous foods in home kitchens. Home kitchens are not built to the same code as commercial kitchens and cannot be inspected as thoroughly. Therefore, meals sold out of home kitchens have an increased risk of causing outbreaks of foodborne illness.

Foodborne illnesses from potentially hazardous foods can often result in missed work, extensive treatment, hospitalization, and even death. According to the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA), six common foodborne illnesses in California resulted in over $50 million in medical costs alone in 2015. Expanding restaurant operations to home kitchens only stands to increase the frequency of foodborne illness, resulting in higher medical and lost productivity costs to California.

Furthermore, AB 626 poses significant costs to both the state and local governments. This measure threatens to exponentially increase California Department of Public Health (CDPH) costs associated with foodborne illness outbreak response, investigation, and laboratory resources. At the county level, local health departments are expected to incur increased costs of permitting microenterprise kitchens and investigating and responding to foodborne illness outbreaks. Under the current Cottage Food Program, health departments have consistently determined the cost associated with registration, permitting, accounting, and enforcement far exceeds the permitting fees collected and must rely on resources in already-strained health department budgets. When outbreaks do occur, epidemiologists must conduct thorough investigations that can take local health departments weeks, months, or even years to complete, thus further impacting local resources.

It is for these reasons that we must oppose AB 626 (E. Garcia). For more information, please reference our attached AB 626 Financial Fact Sheet.
