

ORDINANCE NO. 2020-28

AN URGENCY INTERIM ORDINANCE IMPOSING A TEMPORARY MORATORIUM ON INDUSTRIAL HEMP CULTIVATION

The Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors ordains as follows:

Section 1. Purpose and Findings.

- A. The purpose of this urgency ordinance is to establish a temporary moratorium on industrial hemp cultivation while the County considers developing reasonable regulations to mitigate the impacts and regulate the location of the cultivation of industrial hemp, which is generally defined as the Cannabis sativa L. plant with a tetrahydrocannabinol (THC) concentration of 0.3% or less.
- B. In December 2018, H.R. 2, the Agriculture Improvement Act of 2018 (the 2018 Farm Bill), was signed into law, authorizing hemp cultivation more broadly than previously allowed by removing hemp from Schedule I of the federal Controlled Substances Act.
- C. The 2018 Farm Bill delegates to states and Indian tribes the authority to regulate and limit the production of hemp within their borders. It requires states to submit regulatory plans to the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) for review and approval. The California Department of Food and Agriculture submitted a proposed state regulatory plan to the USDA for review and approval. California's proposed state regulatory plan is under review by the USDA.
- D. Under Food and Agricultural Code sections 81003 and 81004, before cultivation, a commercial grower or seed breeder of industrial hemp must register with the county agricultural commissioner. To date in 2020, the Contra Costa County Agricultural Commissioner has registered five commercial industrial hemp growers in the unincorporated areas of Contra Costa County. A registration is valid for one year from the date of issuance.
- E. Under state law, industrial hemp is not subject to the same regulatory provisions as cannabis. Health and Safety Code section 11018.5(b) exempts industrial hemp from regulation under the Medicinal and Adult-Use Cannabis Regulation and Safety Act (Business and Professions Code, § 26000 et seq.). Accordingly, the County's cannabis regulation ordinance, Chapter 88-28 of the County Ordinance Code, does not regulate the cultivation of industrial hemp within the unincorporated areas of Contra Costa County.
- F. The methods for distinguishing industrial hemp (the non-intoxicating Cannabis sativa L. plant) from cannabis (the psychotropic version of the plant) are evolving. Industrial hemp and cannabis are derivatives of the same plant, Cannabis sativa L. Under state law, industrial hemp is distinguished from cannabis by the amount of tetrahydrocannabinol (THC), the psychoactive chemical in the plant. If the plant has a concentration of 0.3%

THC or less, it is categorized as industrial hemp. Industrial hemp and cannabis thus may be difficult to distinguish without a chemical analysis for the presence of THC content. THC levels are difficult to test reliably until the plant is close to maturity and ready for harvest. Testing is time sensitive, and it is difficult to perform and obtain results in a timely manner. The similarities in the two types of plants present challenges for law enforcement and code enforcement when determining whether a cultivation site complies with applicable law, including Ordinance Code chapter 88-28, or has paid required taxes.

- G. Industrial hemp can serve as a host to corn earworms and other insects. The pesticides that have been approved for industrial hemp may not provide the range of control needed to prevent movement of these pests from industrial hemp to nearby crops.
- H. Without local regulation, the cultivation of industrial hemp and cannabis may create incompatibility issues due to cross-pollination if male industrial hemp plants are grown or allowed to be grown close to cannabis.
- I. The cultivation of industrial hemp without local regulations may interfere with licensed and permitted cannabis cultivation operations under Ordinance Code chapter 88-28, particularly with respect to pollen drift and pest contamination.
- J. A moratorium on the cultivation of industrial hemp is urgent and necessary to give the County time to study and determine how best to regulate the cultivation of industrial hemp and consider appropriate zoning districts and regulatory standards, including location requirements, security standards, water supply requirements, and size limits.
- K. The continued allowance of industrial hemp cultivation before the adoption of local regulations creates an urgent and immediate threat to the public health, safety, or welfare of the citizens and existing agriculture in Contra Costa County.

Cultivation allowed under this Section 3(c) is allowed only for the term of the existing registration, which is not subject to renewal.
