Subject: Measure X

I'm aware that issues surrounding aging and disabled populations are just beginning to get the attention they deserve. But is it enough? I don't think so. This population continues to expand and their needs continue to cry out for attention. It makes sense to implement the Accessible Transportation Strategic Plan, as this is the strongest and the only way to meet the growing needs of this population. I strongly recommend this Strategy be prioritized and implemented and funded to ensure folks like myself are acknowledged and planned for via funding from Measure X. We cannot allow this to continue without prioritizing and funding the needs of these two vitally important populations.
