RFP #2111-522 AB 109 Evidence-Based Housing & Employment Programs
Notice of “No Award” for Housing Services

Dear Applicant,

After careful review and assessment of the current solicitation process for RFP #2111-522 for housing services, the Office of Reentry and Justice (ORJ), in collaboration with County Counsel and the Purchasing Department, has concluded that in the best interest of the community and all applicants, awards will not be given at this time for AB 109 Evidence-Based Reentry Housing Program, and thus this solicitation is presently closed.

ORJ will issue a new solicitation process in the coming weeks for AB 109 Evidence-Based Housing Programs ONLY and will afford all applicants an opportunity to resubmit their proposals for consideration. Applicants who have submitted proposals under RFP #2111-522 will be allowed to resubmit their applications, as well as make necessary alterations to their original proposals for consideration. We will also make slight adjustments to the new RFP for further clarification.

If you wish to resubmit your original proposal with modifications, please consider the following guidance to improve the quality of your submission:

- Be sure to include quantifiable data indicators and key questions in the program’s logic model.
- The selection of the evidence-based housing program from the Results First Clearinghouse must be an evidence-based housing model to receive sufficient scoring.
- Describe in detail specific strategies your agency will employ for ongoing client engagement and retention for full scoring.
- Be sure to draw clear relationships between your service model activities, outputs, and outcomes.
- Specify in detail your agencies practices for data collection, continuous quality improvement, and potential obstacles in assessing quality.
- Check your responses against the RFP scoring sheet in advance of your proposal submission and ensure your responses adequately addresses the guiding questions.
