Union Pacific Railroad Company
Refund Claim Form
Exhibit A
Statement of Grounds for the Refund Claim

Union Pacific seeks a refund of a portion of the property taxes it has paid to the County on the grounds that portion was illegally levied and collected in violation of federal and state law.

The County has applied a tax rate to the assessed value of Union Pacific's property that exceeds the tax rate generally applicable to commercial and industrial property. This excessive tax rate violates Section 306(1)(c) of the Railroad Revitalization and Regulatory Reform Act of 1976, now codified at 49 U.S.C. Section 11501(b)(3), which bars state and local governments from levying or collecting an ad valorem tax on railroad property at a tax rate that is higher than the tax rate generally applicable to commercial and industrial property in the same assessment jurisdiction. Multiple court decisions recognize that because there is no specific rate for commercial and industrial property under California law, the appropriate benchmark rate to determine a violation of Section 11501(b)(3) is the average tax rate for all property. See BNSF Railway Company v. County of Alameda, 7 F.4th 874 (9th Cir. 2021) and Trailer Train Company v. State Board of Equalization, 697 F.2d 860, 867 (9th Cir.), cert. denied, 464 U.S. 846 (1983). The County has applied a tax rate to Union Pacific's property that exceeds this benchmark rate, in violation of 49 U.S.C. § 11501(b)(3).

For similar reasons, the tax rate the County has applied to Union Pacific's property also violates California law, including, without limitation, Article XIII, Section 19 of the California Constitution, which requires that railroad and utility property "be subject to taxation to the same extent and in the same manner as other property." In ITT World Comm. v. City and County of San Francisco, 37 Cal.3d 859, 693 P2d 811 (1985), the California Supreme Court held this provision means that state-assessed public utility and railroad property must be subject to the same tax rate as locally assessed property. The County has applied a tax rate to Union Pacific's property that exceeds the tax rate for locally assessed property, in violation of California law.

Because the County has applied an excessive tax rate to Union Pacific's property in violation of federal and state law, the excessive taxes were illegally levied and erroneously and illegally collected, entitling Union Pacific to a refund under Cal. Rev. & Tax Code § 5096 et seq. Union Pacific seeks a refund of the excessive portion of the taxes it has paid, plus interest, costs, attorneys' fees, and any other relief that may be permitted under Cal. Rev. & Tax Code § 5096 et seq. or any other applicable statute, law, or regulation.

Union Pacific is filing this claim with the Board of Supervisors, the Treasurer/Tax Collector, and the California State Board of Equalization, as applicable. For further information, please contact Robert Morgan, Union Pacific General Director of Property Tax, at (402) 544-4872.
