What is the Racial Justice Oversight Body?

The Racial Justice Oversight Body (RJOB) was established in 2018 following the Board of Supervisors adoption of the Racial Justice Task Force's (RJTF) recommendations for improving racial equity within the County's justice system.

From April 2017-June 2018, RJTF met monthly to review local justice system data and assessed best and emerging practices for addressing racial disparities.

The Task Force found disparities across the local justice system after review of data from law enforcement agencies, criminal and juvenile justice system. The highlighted findings included:

1. Higher arrest rates for Black youth and adults drive disparities in County juvenile and criminal justice processes in 2014
2. Black and Latino youth were more likely than White youth to be placed in custody, both pre- and post-adjudication
3. Differences in the rate of disparity across cities indicated that different local contexts drive these disparities.
4. A higher proportion of Black and Latino defendants have sentence enhancements, due to characteristics of charges and/or defendants
5. Black adults in Contra Costa County were more likely than Latino or White adults to be detained pre-trial
6. In 2014, Black youth were sent to secure confinement at a higher rate than all other races; relative to being a ward of the Court, Hispanic youth were securely confined at a higher rate.
7. Changes to County jury selection processes have increased disparities in who services on juries in Contra Costa County.
