Hi my name is Sam I have reached a point in my life where I cannot take care of my 21 month old puppy max he is a German shepard mixed with either Akita or Mastiff he is around 90 pounds. He is potty trained and fixed, his shots did expire recently. I love him so much but it seemed like it was unfair to not be able to take him for walks and play with him as much as I need to. I'm looking for a loving active home he's energetic and a love bug. He does great in cars and trucks front and back seat. If you are interested in meeting up to see him please contact me.

Thanks,
Sam

sam_i_am_theartist Hey everyone, Bit of sad news I can unfortunately can not take care of my dog max anymore and need a good home for him he is around 90 pounds he is high energy due to him being a big puppy he does great in cars/trucks no matter if it's in front or back he loves the ride he also loves long walks and loves to play no matter the conditions. He is a lover and will jump up to kiss you he is a year and 9 months old. He is winding down but, still loves to tear his toys apart and he loves food. I have kept him on a diet of dog food and fruits and veggies so he is great shape. He is fixed and is recently not updated on his shots. He is potty trained
